The upgrade will be released later this year and is planned for sometime in December. The Windows 10 upgrade will be made available through the regular Windows Update channel. The release date of the final Windows 10 upgrade was officially announced on October 6, 2017. This release is known as the Windows 10 October 2018 Update. According to Windows Insiders, the final Windows 10 upgrade is expected to be available to testers by the end of October. Windows Insiders who have the appropriate role in the Windows Insider program, such as a Windows Insider Fast ring member, will have the upgrade available on their devices from the latest preview build. The October 2018 Update for Windows 10 is likely to be the last big Windows 10 update. Microsoft is preparing the release of the Windows 10 November 2018 Update by end of November, and the company is already working on the Windows 10 December 2018 Update. After that, Microsoft is planning to release other smaller updates, but the company plans to release only one major update per year after Windows 10's release. The Windows 10 November 2018 Update is the last major Windows 10 update. Microsoft is planning to ship many more smaller updates after that. [Video-Vendor-url-in-description] Windows 10 Home Edition is a free upgrade to Windows 10. Windows 10 Home is meant to be a personal operating system, and it does not include certain features that business customers require, such as Business Continuity, Remote Desktop, Remote Assistance, Windows Defender, Remote Desktop Services and many others. The Windows 10 Home edition is available as a free upgrade from Windows 7 or Windows 8.1, or as a retail disc included with a new computer. Windows 10 Enterprise is a paid upgrade to Windows 10 Pro. It includes all features of Windows 10 Home, plus many additional business features, such as BitLocker drive encryption, FIPS 140-2 validation, and Remote Desktop Services. It is available as a retail disc included with a new computer or as a paid upgrade from Windows 7 or Windows

I'm trying to localize my app. I have my strings file in english/german/french. The method below works if I have english/german strings (I choose france for french version, english for english version and I can see the translation on my app...). But I would like that I can load any language. For this I have managed to put my app in french, but I have a problem. Because some strings have an specific enction like this : "1/n" for "First". I think it's right for a french version, 2d92ce491b
