For security reason I have to convert the Chinese(Windows-1252) file encoding to UTF-8. I know there is a way to do that through encoding table, but it is too complicated for me. I just hope to find a one-step way to do that in Windows 10. Thanks! A: It's the default encoding for Windows 10, so you can simply change it. If you right-click on any file, and choose Properties, you'll find an option to change the character encoding. I'm pretty sure it will stay as the default (which is UTF-8) until you change it. First US Intel jailbreak source for iOS 9.3.1 released Apple's iOS 9.3.1 update is available to download right now, and those who've already updated should be aware that they're now more vulnerable to jailbreaking. The primary jailbreak source for iOS 9.3.1 is now available, and unlike the iOS 9 jailbreak released for the previous two major updates, it allows the community to easily jailbreak devices running iOS 9.3.1. Cydia Impactor, the software that the iOS team have used to provide the source for the last two jailbreaks, has been removed in iOS 9.3.1, and so the method for the jailbreak is different. However, it is still not as complex as the process for the iOS 9.3 jailbreak, and, in fact, the release doesn't 2d92ce491b
